DESCRIPTION

Step through the wrought iron front doors and you're immediately welcomed into a space that feels both grand and warm. Your eyes are drawn upward to the cathedral ceiling, where stunning exposed wooden beams define the living area. These are structural timber frame elements, a historic, artisan style of construction that adds character, strength, and timeless beauty to the home. The craftsmanship is even more meaningful knowing the home was built by the same company responsible for the iconic Ark Encounter. A testament to the quality and authenticity of the build. Panoramic doors open wide to the covered back patio, seamlessly connecting indoor comfort with outdoor serenity. Just beyond lies the property's second showpiece: a peaceful three quarter acre pond stocked with largemouth bass, catfish, and perch. The oversized patio and deck create the setting for relaxing mornings or lively evenings, complemented by a backyard fire pit and a private driving range. Whether entertaining guests or enjoying quiet time, this backyard is designed to be savored. The kitchen is both elegant and inviting, featuring granite countertops, a breakfast bar, and an open layout that flows into the living room. From here, you'll enjoy views of the pond and the striking stone fireplace, a natural gathering point that anchors the space. A loft overlooking the living room offers a cozy retreat above it all; a perfect nook to curl up with a book, unwind, or simply enjoy the view of the timber beams above. The home offers incredible flexibility with five spacious bedrooms, each showcasing decorative wood beams and a private ensuite bath. The primary suite is a true retreat, featuring a luxurious walk in shower, a separate clawfoot tub that adds rustic charm, and a thoughtfully designed closet with custom shelving and direct access to the utility room. This is more than a home. It's a handcrafted retreat where timeless design meets everyday livability, all set on five scenic acres.
