DESCRIPTION

This 15-acre property in Hill Country Estates offers natural beauty, privacy, and potential. With 203 feet of road frontage and stretching over 1,200 feet deep, the front portion of the property is relatively flat, making it an ideal building site. The sloping terrain toward the rear provides expansive Hill Country views, while mature trees add character and privacy to the landscape. The property is fully fenced, and there is electricity available at the street making it easier to start a project sooner. Limited restrictions allow flexibility for a custom home, private retreat, or family compound, with several potential build sites to suit your vision. Located between Wimberley and Blanco, this property combines the tranquility of rural living with proximity to Austin, San Antonio, and other Hill Country destinations. It's a unique opportunity to own a scenic and versatile piece of land in one of Texas's most desirable areas.
